The Meaning Of Christmas

(So that we all may find a deeper sense of the meaning of Christmas this season, OBSERVER has asked members of Glades churches to write about what Christmas means to them. We are thankful for their cooperation, and shall publish these articles weekly until Christmas. — Editor.)

BY MRS. E. M. LIVELY
Member of St. John the Apostle Episcopal Church,
Belle Glade

Christ has a real meaning for me today, but is not always so.

Until a few years ago Christ and Christianity meant being baptized, being confirmed, going to church somewhat irregularly, professing Christianity when it didn't require any particular daring or courage, doing my Christian duty as I knew it, being a member of most church organizations, being a good decent and fairly acceptable person.

In short, Christ meant really nothing to me except that I believed He was.

Then came the day when I was challenged by someone who really knew Christ. I didn't like it, I resented it. In fact, I fought like a steer defending my stand and succeeded in convincing myself that I had a stand to defend.

But there was a still small voice that kept asking extremely annoying questions and I found myself reading the Bible which I had read occasionally through the years and always used to prepare Sunday School lessons and programs for church organizations; but now I was desperate to prove my point.

I started reading other religious literature saying to myself, "You say you are a Christian, you believe all these things you are reading." To which the little voice responded, "Yes, all of this is fine, but do you really know Christ, do you honestly love Him and acknowledge Him in all your ways?" It all made me very uncomfortable.

Then I was confronted with a need so great that there was to help anywhere on earth, but somehow deep inside of me I knew there was help and I must find it.

Now I read the Bible seriously and almost listened to the words of Jesus in the gospels. However I still wasn't sure I wanted to be caught doing it. I talked to people, prayed, asked questions of those I thought had the answers. I read spiritual books — no longer to prove my theories, but to find something I was ready to admit I did not have.

At last the answer came quickly and startlingly, and I yet quietly and surely, for now I understood. I knew! I saw Christ! I experienced a love so deep, so common, so pleasurable, so real that I knew it could only be the love of Christ, many things happened at that time, some supernatural, some natural. My need was met miraculously and I was convinced beyond a shadow of a doubt that I had never before known Christ.

I saw, among other things, that the belief I had fought so violently to defend was shallow and empty. So today Christ means everything worthwhile to me. He is the way the only way to peace, happiness, joy, health, prosperity, salvation, and life (eternal and abundant).

I now know Him and love Him. There remains but to follow Him and I don't say that lightly, for it has so far been the hardest thing I have ever tried to do. But that is because I haven't yet completely surrendered my life to Him and I am still trying to do my will rather than His will for me. But someday I shall, for I have hope, blessed hope.

At this season of the year when we celebrate the birth of our Lord and thank Almighty God that He loved us enough to send His only Son to save us, I feel there is no better time to give thanks for my own rebirth and to think quietly about what I have done to Him and to the world will soon realize that only through Christ — and by seeking His Kingdom first — will we have peace on earth.

Newport Quits On Ramie?

CANAL POINT — Rumors afloat this week that Newport Industries, Inc., would cease ramie farming could not be officially substantiated by OBSERVER.

Newport, reputed to be the giant among ramie operators in the Glades, has completed the 1956 ramie harvest on its extensive farmlands situated between Highway east of Canal Point.

Company officials at the Newport plant here and at Newport higher echelon headquarters in Pensacola would neither confirm nor deny the rumors, following company policy of remaining tight-lipped about their operations.

Ellis Murphy Is Hit-Run Victim

PAHOKEE — The driver of a hit-and-run vehicle which caused an accident and hospitalized Ellis Murphy, Pahokee investment contractor, still has not been apprehended, Police Chief Leon Guthrie said Wednesday.

The accident occurred late Monday afternoon when Murphy stopped his auto on Hwy. 15 near the Funderburk home to investigate a flat tire. Tommy Hooks of Pahokee drove up behind Murphy and stopped his auto.

Whereupon the hit-and-run vehicle is reported to have rammed Hook's gulo, pinning Murphy between the two stationary cars and fracturing his left leg. Murphy was taken by ambulance to Everglades Memorial Hospital.

Following the accident, the hit-and-run auto swerved down the highway an estimated 385 feet before stopping. The driver fled the auto, which carried stolen license plates.

He is under an effort is being made to trace ownership of the abandoned auto.

Cecil Chastain Is Stricken

WEST PALM BEACH — A medical team at St. Mary's Hospital in Pahokee and given emergency treatment.

The stricken man was removed to the West Palm Beach hospital Saturday night when his physician reportedly felt the case was such that specialists were required.

The doctors working on the case reportedly have been in close contact by telephone with medical authorities the nation over in seeking to find remedies.

Mr. Chastain moved to Pahokee from Georgia a few months ago. Mrs. Pope and her mother have been commuting daily from Pahokee to the hospital here, and have stood watches nightly at the hospital.

Except for traffic accidents, falls account for most accidental deaths than any other cause.

Big Grid Crowd Watches BG Top Pahokee, 14-0

PAHOKEE — Belle Glade Golden Rams, opportunists who pressurized to make breaks and then capitalized on them, turned back a scrappy Pahokee team Wednesday night 14-0.

Both Ram touchdowns came in the first half, and both followed blocked Pahokee punts recovered by Belle Glade.

The Blue Devils fought back valiantly in the last half, holding the Rams downfield drive on the three-yard line and relentlessly marching all the way to the Belle Glade 25 before losing the ball on downs.

The first touchdown came with four minutes remaining in the open stanza. R. B. Braddock, the visitor's field general, punted beautifully to the Pahokee one-yard line, where Earl Armstrong downed the ball before it could roll across the goal line for a touchback.

Standing deep in his own end zone, Pahokee's punter, Weldon Cardin, attempted to get his kick off despite a high pass from center. The Belle Glade forward wall blocked it, and the Rams recovered on the 10.

Stunned deep in his own end zone, Pahokee's punter, Weldon Cardin, attempted to get his kick off despite a high pass from center. The Belle Glade forward wall blocked it, and the Rams recovered on the 10.

Pahokee stopped two Ram bids, but on the third play a double reverse found Leon Burkett sweeping his right end for a quick change of fortune. The Devils could not bring him down. Billy Jackson's plunge through the middle made it 7-0. Pahokee then drove from its own 45 to the Belle Glade 37 and completed a pass which was intercepted by the Rams. The Devils were offside, however, and Pahokee was forced to punt from the 42.

Again, Cardin's punt was blocked, the ball bounding backward to be downed by big Billy Lee on the Pahokee 37. It was a quick change of fortune, and Belle Glade proceeded forward, Braddock capping the thrust with a plunge over his head, clearing the three for the touchdown.

Jackson's shove through the middle made it 14-0, with about four minutes gone in the second quarter, but the scoring for the night was concluded.

The spirited Blue Devils managed to close contest in the last half, but their sputtering offense couldn't jell consistently and sustained drives were abortive.

Fans were treated to bruising head-up football. Both lines were outstanding, but the Belle Glade aggressiveness paid off. Pahokee had pretty much of a two-pronged offense featuring Cardin and Richard Weeks, whereas the Rams had Braddock, Burkett, Crant and Jackson, who could all move the ball.

The win gave Belle Glade the Bill Young Trophy sponsored by Lions Clubs of both cities. It ended the traditional rivalry between the two schools at six victories apiece, with two ties.

Freak Accident With Grease Gun

PAHOKEE — Cleve Cruthird, spent Thursday night in St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach because of a freak accident which occurred a week ago.

Cruthird was using a pressurized grease gun at his service station and had his hand in front of the gun when it accidentally discharged.

The pressurized stream of grease pierced his hand, even though he was holding a rag in it. He was taken to the hospital Saturday, and underwent an operation on the hand Tuesday night.

Issues Warning On Prowlers

PAHOKEE — Police Chief Leon Guthrie this week warned residents that the "prowler season" is at hand and that they should take extra precautions to keep their homes locked and doors closed.

Guthrie issued his warning after receiving reports that prowlers have been seen near residences. He said that the "peeping Tom" was picked up by Pahokee police last week following the Pahokee-Pompano football game.

VETERAN GLADES OFFICIALS RATE AMONG LEAGUE'S BEST

PAHOKEE — With a double set of officials on hand, fans at the Pahokee-Belle Glade football game might have wondered just how many "zebras" were required to keep peace and quiet between the arch rivals.

The second set of "zebras," striped and down-marked, were merely Glades sportsmen who officiate at Suncoast Conference games but who aren't allowed to "work" games involving Pahokee or Belle Glade.

For some of them, the occasion was the first to watch Pahokee and Belle Glade in action, and they donated their services as time-keepers, yard markers, keepers of the "chains," and down-markers.

The "extra" officials at the game were Horace Unwin, Brooks Henderson, Frank Gillis and Dow Fitzgerald of Pahokee, and Jimmy Williams of Belle Glade.

The group has worked as a team of officials at seven games this fall, with Unwin as referee. Henderson as umpire, Gillis as head linesman, and Fitzgerald and Williams alternating as field judges.

Each time they've worked this season have involved every Suncoast team at least once — except Pahokee and Belle Glade. Unwin is the oldest veteran of the unit, his officiating dating back to 1937. Henderson became an official when the conference was organized. Gillis has officiated about six years, Fitzgerald about three, and Williams about five.

How do these "oldtime" athletes stand up to the grind of officiating, running as much as the pre-school kids? Pretty well, says Unwin, who guesses he runs about a mile and a half each game, despite the fact of officials can't take a time-out or rest during the two-hour game interval, except at half-time.

As an officiating team, the Glades group is highly rated for its competence. Unwin says in his 18 years of working games he hasn't seen an official intentionally call a play wrong. He says officials must pass examinations given by the state and attend officiating clinics of the state and conference before being allowed to work games.

"Officials are human and they can err," Unwin says, "but you've got to have someone calling the shots, and remember, that officials are unbiased by emotions of the moment and must know the rule book better than anybody, because that is their business."

Unwin doesn't let crowd rowdiness bother him — in fact, he seldom hears the crowd, so little is he on the game itself. He says he "sees" a game as the crowd, as he watches the game play by play for fractions of rules.

Commenting on the recent fracas that involved Moore Haven football followers and officials, Unwin noted that now high schools themselves are responsible for conduct of fans at games. He believes Glades understand the "growl" of the crowd, as he was "up" so that even the most rabid one can take ill-fortune in stride.

"It wasn't always so, though," he says. "In earlier years Pahokee, Belle Glade and Clewiston all had outbreaks of near-violence because of over-intense partisanship," he remembers.

One thing about playing the traditional Pahoek-Belle Glade football game on Thanksgiving Eve — whereas "to the victors go the spoils," it's a pretty good bet players of both teams had their full share of spoils yesterday.

BIG MEETING, BIG SUCCESS — One thing is certain. If misfortune should ever strike Congressman Billy Matthews, hard enough to make him lose his seat in Congress, he won't have to worry about earning a living. He can move over to television without losing a day's pay.

Those who saw him in action here last week as master of ceremonies at the meeting of the Florida Alumni Club will agree that he could easily rate alongside George Gobel, Jackie Gleason, Herb Shriner — or any of the other top humorists in the business.

The Alumni Club is made up of University of Florida Alumni who live in the Washington area. Something like 150 of them gathered at the Capitol Plaza Room of the Continental Hotel to honor President J. Wayne Reitz. Among the celebrities at the head table were almost two dozen other officials and dignitaries from the university. (Able to be present because of other conventions or meetings or business in town.) Club President Frank J. Wideman Jr., of West Palm Beach, said this looked like "the greatest gathering of University of Florida officials ever held outside of Gainesville."

Although President Reitz was guest of honor, "Mister Billy" easily was the chief attraction. Not that Dr. Reitz didn't do a good job. He did. He was eloquent in his bragging about the university. He told about its expansion. The new dormitories, the new medical school, the Dan McCarty Hall, nuclear science progress, with a few complimentary words about the football team. He said, "Show me a great university and I'll show you a great state."

The dinner opened, sedately enough, with Congressman Syd Herlong offering the invocation. But after that, Mr. Billy took over. He said the recent election was like a teenage popularity contest in which the Democrats were running Rudy Vallee and the Republicans were running Elvis Presley. He told about the time he got on the wrong train (this one was carrying mental patients to Chattahoochee). An attendant came through the car counting his patients, "1, 2, 3, 4, 5," and he came to Congressman Matthews. "What's your name? I don't remember you?"

The Congressman said, "I'm Congressman Matthews. I represent Florida's Eighth District in Washington." The attendant wrote his name down and continued to count, "7, 8, 9, 10." He recalled, a bygone day when he and Dean Brooker were being initiated into a fraternity at the university. In the course of the midnight ordeal, Mr. Billy was tossed into a freshly dug grave in the cemetery. He tried to climb out, but the grave was too deep. Knowing that sooner or later the fellows would be back, he sat quietly in one end to out-wait them. After a while, Brooker was tossed in with him. Unaware of Billy's presence, Brooker began frantically to try to climb out. Billy watched him for awhile then spoke up and said, "No use trying, Brooker, for I'll never make it." In telling the incident the other night, the Congressman said, "It's a funny thing, but do you know Dean Brooker did make it — in just one jump, too."

A Day-After-Thanksgiving Message From The Children's Home Society of Florida

At the Thanksgiving season the citizens of America pause to count their blessings and give thanks. It is a time for feasting and rejoicing.

It is also a time for helping less fortunate brothers. Countless number of people in Florida already know of the work of the Children's Home Society of Florida. Countless more should know about it.

If you could see some of these children when they come to the Society, pathetic, neglected, ill-treated little ones — and watch the transformation as they respond to wholesome care and loving interest — you would be overjoyed to have a part in such a rewarding work. Health and confidence replacing despair and distrust, hearts made happy, future homes of affection and security provided — can you think of a more worthwhile investment?

If you, the people, will provide the money needed, the Society can and will do the job. The record speaks for itself. 1,006 children were made happier during the first nine months of 1956 through their services. YOU can help by sending a

Need Your Help To Fight TB - Buy Christmas Seals!

WEST PALM BEACH — An all-out war is being conducted against tuberculosis by the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis and Health Association through the 50th annual Christmas Seal sale campaign.

County Christmas Seal sale chairman is State Senator Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson Jr., who has released the following data pertaining to the dread disease, and how your contributions in Christmas Seal sales can help. 125 NEW cases of tuberculosis were reported in Palm Beach County last year as compared to 85 in 1954. From Jan. 1 to Oct. 12, 1956 there were 101 reported for the county and 2,019 for the state.

Approximately one half of the 2,233 new cases reported in Florida last year were white males. More far advanced cases were found in 1955 than in 1954. TB is catching. Each case comes from another case of active TB. The earlier TB is found the easier it is to cure and the less time it takes.

287 Florida people died of TB in 1955 — more than in 1954. Eleven of those 287 were Palm Beach County folks — yet TB is a preventable disease. Over 500 people with tuberculosis in one state or another are under medical supervision for TB in Palm Beach County. How many unknown cases remain an unanswerable question.

A chest x-ray every year is your best insurance against TB. Have one often if you have been exposed to TB or if you have any of the following symptoms: loss of weight; loss of appetite; chronic cough; hoarseness; fatigue; afternoon fever; night sweats; pain in chest or spitting blood.

Free chest x-rays are available to anyone at the Palm Beach County Health Department Chest Clinic, 423 4th St., West Palm Beach. Telephone TE 3-2531 for an appointment. For the first time in history we have all the tools to control TB — x-ray to find it.

Christmas Seals provide the sole income for the TB Association's year 'round program. EVERY PURCHASE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS IS IMPORTANT. LET'S STOP TB.

Sowed-off shotgun in hand, face and head obscured by a flour sack, Black Bart, the lone highwayman, terrorized stagecoach trails in Northern California during the 1870's.

Addressing his victims in impeccable English — and always the gentleman with the ladies — Bart robbed 23 stagecoaches during his 8 years on the loose. In all that time, he never rode a horse or fired a shot.

Growers like DITHANE M-22 ... tomato diseases don't

"During the 1955-56 growing season I used DITHANE M-22 exclusively on over 1000 acres of tomatoes. Disease control was excellent... In spite of generally poor growing conditions my overall average yield was 350 field boxes per acre, which was highly satisfactory under the year's conditions."

JOHN W. CAMPBELL, John W. Campbell Farms Co., Goulds, Florida

"We have used DITHANE on tomatoes and several other crops... more than 10 years... For our last three tomato crops we have used a lot of DITHANE M-22 and are very pleased with the disease control it gave us. Fruit quality has been superior, and all things considered, I believe DITHANE M-22 is the outstanding tomato fungicide available today."

LOYD D. WITT, Witt Bros., Fort Pierce, Florida

There's no argument anywhere about the value of DITHANE M-22 for overall tomato disease control. About the only difference is that some prefer spray powder — others blended dusts available from your local dealer. Either way, this maneb fungicide helps you get lush, rich green foliage and outstanding yields.

It takes two to tango!

It takes only two to tango, but it takes almost 5,000 separate parts and accessories to keep your car running safely and smoothly.

That's roughly an inventory of about $25,000 which each authorized new car dealer of Pahokee must invest for your benefit and convenience. And, you'll never need them all, but sooner or later you'll undoubtedly need some guaranteed replacement part for your particular make and model.

You'll get the part you need promptly because the authorized new car dealer of Pahokee recognizes that selling you an automobile is merely the first step in providing you with continuous economical and dependable transportation.
